If through the medium of this volume, old scenes, old friendships, and all the fond memories of our Great Falls High School days are revived, may it be as in the words of Thomas Moore:

*“When Time, who steals our years away,
Shall steal our pleasures, too,
The memory of the past will stay
And all our joys renew.”*

Miss Ethel Curtis

To

Miss Ethel Curtis

We, the Class of 1924, inscribe this book as a tribute to her ceaseless devotion, inspiration, and sympathy; and as a symbol of our trust, gratitude, and comradeship.

Features

Montana, Montana,
 Glory of the West,
Of all the States from coast to coast
 You're easily the best.
Montana, Montana,
 Where skies are always blue.
M-O-N-T-A-N-A
 Montana, I love you.

In the shade of cedar trees,
There floats the call of a cooing dove,
As soft as the crooning breeze.
Z. H. '24.

Where rugged crags and their jewelled crests
Of Montana mountains rise,
With moss wreathed boughs of the birch o'erhung,
A lake of the wild wood lies.

Z. H. '24.

To learn the best means of persuading Mother Nature that her store of treasures must be given up to man is the aim of the Ag. Club and under Mr. F. E. MacSpadden's direction, the aim is in a fair way of being accomplished. A worthier object would be hard to imagine and may all success comes to its members.

The Girls' Chorus

A greatly to be encouraged organization is the Girls' Chorus. This group is composed of the "songbirds" of the Great Falls High School and has delighted us upon many occasions with its singing. Many of the successful contestants in the vocal numbers of the Music Meet received their training in the chorus. Credit is given for regular work, and in this way it is hoped that the membership may be maintained and that its influence may be extended throughout the school and the community.

The Orchestra

Great Falls High School is, indeed, proud of its orchestra. One of the oldest organizations in the school, it has always been glad and willing to assist in the programs which have been given.

The orchestra this year is larger than it has been in any previous year, and has probably played for more school and public functions than any former orchestra. Among the many entertainments at which it has assisted are the High School assemblies, the Montana Interscholastic Music Meet, the Teachers' Convention, the Annual Commercial Club banquet, the Auto Show, the Tuesday Musical Club, and several Masonic programs. On all these occasions the orchestra has been received with great enthusiasm.

In the recent music Meet the results of intensive training and discipline were evident. With less than two weeks of rehearsing on the contest selection, the orchestra tied with Butte for second place.

Four credits toward graduation may be obtained by membership in the orchestra. It is hoped that this fact may be an incentive to an increased membership and to the building up of a small symphony orchestra, a goal well worth striving for.

The Boys' Glee Club

What gave us more of a thrill during the Music Meet than did the stirring music of this group of songsters? The hearty applause showed in no small measure the appreciation felt by the audience. As a reward for their superior work, first place was given to them among the glee clubs of the state.

First Tenor—Carl Ross, Ernest Acord, Truman Acord, Joyce Baldwin.
 Second Tenor—Francis Albright, Rudolph Zaniewicz, Ross Chenoweth.
 First Bass—Robert Sisk, James Zakarian, Waverly Culp.
 Second Bass—Jack Leland, Kenneth Baldwin, Ralph Cline.

SCHOLARSHIP HONORS AWARDED TO TEN HIGHEST SENIORS

SECOND HONOR ROLL COMPLETE

Three Hundred Eleven Students Have at Least Two Grades Over 90

The Honor Roll for this month discloses the fact that approximately one-fourth of all the students in the high schools are doing ninety per cent work in at least two subjects. Ninety-six pupils made the first Honor Roll, one hundred, the second, and one hundred fifteen, the third. The names of those who ranked in each of the rolls are as follows:

Rank I.

TECH CLUB ENJOYS ADDRESS BY MACLAY

Mr. Edgar MacLay, superintendent of the electrolytic plant of the A. C. M. smelter, gave at the Tech Club meeting March 15 a very interesting as well as educational talk on the electrolytic method used to separate metal from plant.

Robert Wolf, president of the Club, spoke on "Radio Carrots" was the topic discussed by Fred Norton. The evening was closed with a few songs.

HONOR TEN OF 1924

CARL ROSENBAUM HEADS HONOR TEN

Robert Wells, Second, Valedictorian, Has Average of Over 87. Salutatorian's Average is 86 Plus.

The Honor Ten for 1924 has finally been announced. Seven out of the ten are girls, but boys have taken the first two places. All of the honor students are well known about the school and their averages are somewhat higher than last year's Honor Ten. Another significant fact is that the valedictorian with 42 credits, will upon graduation have completed five years of High School work in four years; and the salutatorian, with 41 credits, will lack but one credit of having done an extra year of work.

Carl Rosenbaum, Valedictorian. Carl Rosenbaum, president of the Senate and member of the student council, has an average of 87.04. Last year he won the gold medal for shorthand proficiency at the Butte commercial meet played a prominent part in the Junior play, and was toastmaster of the class banquet. He recently won two gold medals and a scholarship in extemporaneous speaking, becoming state champion.

Robert Wells. Robert Wells who has an average of 86.018, has been an active member in the Tech Club for the past four years. In his Junior year he was librarian of the club and is now its president. He was also a member of the Boys' Club.

Margaret Miracle. Margaret Miracle, who will graduate with an average of 85.315, is a prominent member of the dramatics class and was the heroine of the Junior play, "Come Out of the Kitchen." Besides her dramatic work she is a member of the Music Club, the Roundup Staff, and is secretary of the Senior Class.

Elsie Ewing. Elsie Ewing, whose average for the past two years is 84.844, has served on many committees during her school career. She is a steady, dependable, worthwhile pupil, well liked by students and teachers.

SCHOOL FORMS HONOR SOCIETY

Both Students and Faculty Exhibit Great Interest

The organization of a local chapter of the National Honor Society of Secondary Schools has met with the approval of the school and has already been endorsed by the faculty and student council. Widespread interest and a desire to place an organization of this kind in the school has been in evidence.

National Organization. At present there is a national organization under the control of a council of nine members, elected by the National Association of Secondary School Principals.

Membership in this chapter will be based on scholarship, service, leadership and character, and the election of members to this chapter will be made by a committee consisting of the principal and four or more teachers selected by him.

Eligibility Rules. Candidates eligible to become members must stand among the first four in scholarship in their class and they must have been at least one year in Great Falls High School. Either during the year or the year preceding.

HI-LIFE HELD OVER FOR HONOR RETURNS

This issue of the Hi-Life was held over from Tuesday to Thursday in order to publish the Honor Ten. Since next week is vacation, had the paper not been held, the Honor Ten could not have been published for three weeks.

Amateur Salesmen Make Good Showing

Make Twenty Per Cent Sale of Tickets to Music Meet

Miss Nelson's salesmanship classes made a record sale of Music Meet tickets last week. Out of 252 interviews given, 51 tickets, or 20 per cent, were sold in a field already covered. This is a good percentage for High School students, as business men consider three sales out of ten interviews a very good record.

Armed with a smile and more or less eloquence, they issued forth enticing the hard earned two dollars or seventy-five cents from many pockets.

The students worked hard in preparing and memorizing the sales talks and in canvassing the business district. They helped make the Music Meet a success.

XYLOPHONE AND BAND MAKE HIT

Bozeman and Havre Students Entertain Assembly Thursday

Amid the applause of a delighted audience, one of the most enjoyed programs ever given in the Great Falls High School was presented last Thursday morning in the assembly.

Edward Moher of Bozeman, who was the only entrant in the xylophone contest at the Music Meet, delighted his audience by an excellent interpretation of the "Peasant and Poet Overture" and "The Chimes."

The Havre band, the only high school band at the meet, was the second feature of this unusual program. The four selections played were rendered exceedingly well, and the playing of "That Old Gang of Mine" called forth much applause.

MUSICAL CLUB HEARS STUDENTS' PROGRAM

The Tuesday Musical Club was entertained last Tuesday at the bi-weekly meeting at the Hotel Rainbow, by members of the Great Falls High School Musical department. The Boys and Girls Glee Clubs gave a selection and the program was concluded by numbers by the High School orchestra.

Vivian Carol Huhn

Nellie C. Burke

To Mrs. Vivian Huhn and Miss Nellie Burke go the gratitude of the student body for their work in furnishing entertainment, not only for the school, but for the whole town.

Mrs. Huhn has been untiring in her coaching of the Senior dramatics class. In this class the students receive much that will be useful to them in later life. By correct interpreting, one learns to appreciate good literature. A well modulated voice is an invaluable asset. Freedom of movement establishes a graceful body. The presentation of Zona Gale's "Uncle Jimmy" in the assembly gave a very worthwhile and high-class example of dramatic art. The class plays are of great importance in the life of the school, and Mrs. Huhn and Miss Burke have given unceasingly of their time and strength in this department of the work.

Miss Burke has been responsible for the coaching of the class assemblies, and the value of her efforts has been proved on many occasions. The Roundup Day assembly was said by all who saw it to be so natural and so well ordered that those now almost forgotten days of cowboys and cattle queens were lived again in imagination. The Extemporaneous Speaking Contest was conducted by her, and she also assisted in training the declamatory contestants.

The work of this department is invaluable to the school. It fosters an interest in the better things of life. In the future it hopes to become an even greater factor in developing the minds and bodies of all the students who care for dramatic work and in giving high class amusement to the school.

The Senate-Forum Debate

THE SENATE TEAM

"Resolved, that the Monroe Doctrine should be abandoned as a part of the permanent foreign policy of the United States." This was a stand taken and proved according to the decision of judges by the Senate in the annual Senate-Forum Debate. Clear, logical thinking was the outstanding feature of the argument. This is the fourth time in four years that the Senate has defeated the Forum in the annual battle of wits. But there are indications that the situation may be reversed in the future. For this reason the Senate will do well to guard the laurels which it has already won; at least so say threatening members of the leading girls' organization in the school.

The affirmative was upheld by Carl Rosenbaum, James Wynn, and Ward Miller. The Forum, upholding the negative, was represented by Effie McCallum, Florence Cooper, and June Bartlett.

In the State Shorthand and Typewriting contest, one of the most valuable contests of the state. Carl Rosenbaum won the first place in letter dictation at ninety words a minute, first place in solid dictation at one hundred twenty-five words a minute, and second place in the solid dictation at ninety words a minute. Martha Walker won third place in the fifteen-minute Junior contest.

The State Extemporaneous Speaking Contest

Carl Rosenbaum

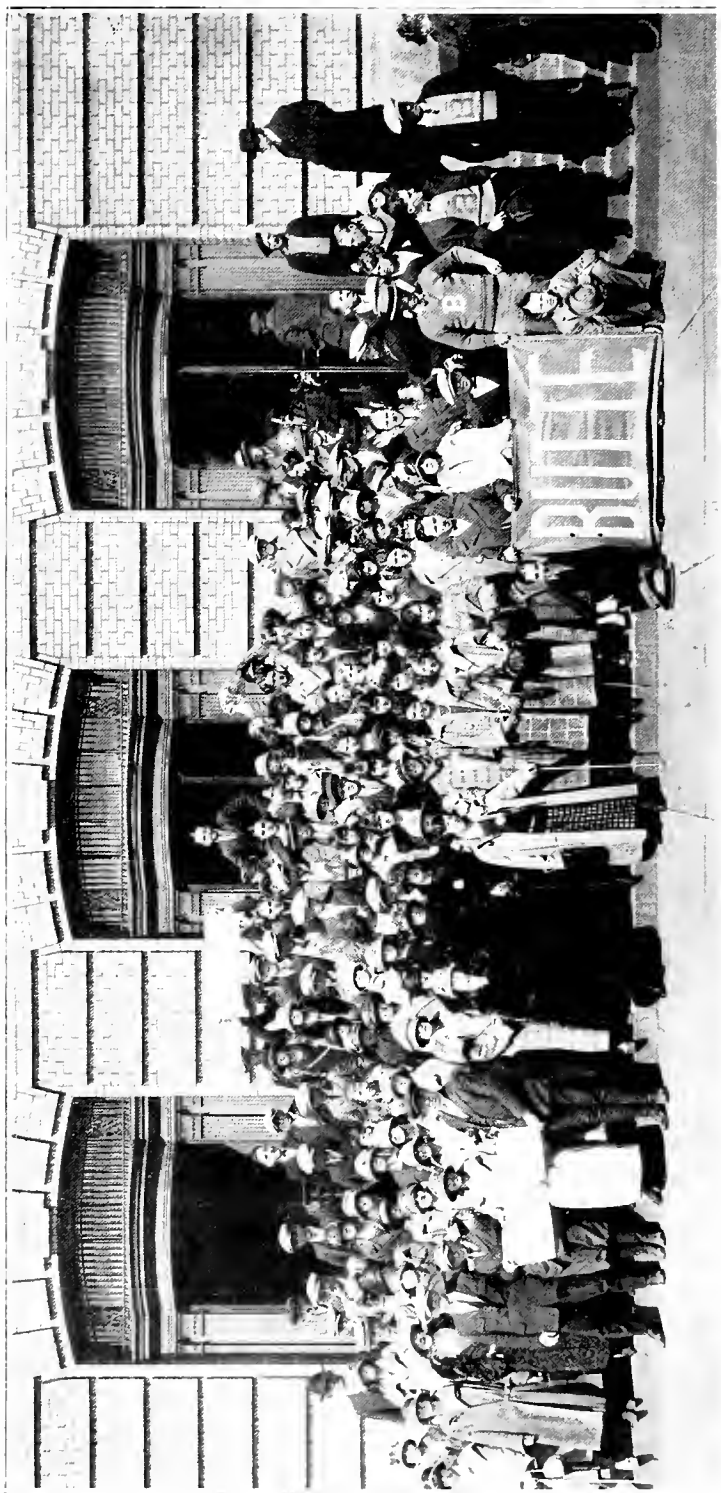

That Great Falls High School excels in more than one department of work is evident from the outcome of this contest. Carl Rosenbaum, winner of the preliminary extemporaneous speaking contest in our school, was sent to represent Great Falls in the State Meet at Bozeman. Speaking on the subject "The United States should enter the World Court with the reservations as offered in the Bok Peace Plan," our representative decisively proved his right to first place in an excellently delivered speech.

The Declamatory Contest

Claire MacGregor Margaret Miracle Grace Thompson Virginia Cowan

Claire MacGregor was awarded first place in the Declamatory contest giving as her selection "Where Love Is, There God Is" by Tolstoi. Margaret Miracle received second place and Grace Thompson and Virginia Cowan tied for third. Claire MacGregor also won second place in the State Declamatory contest at Missoula.

THE MONTANA INTERSCHOLASTIC MUSIC MEET

The Montana Interscholastic Music Meet

The third annual Montana Interscholastic Music Meet which convened in Great Falls was the largest scholastic meet ever held in Montana, not excluding athletics. Nearly three hundred music students, representing high schools from all parts of the state, were in attendance and there is every indication that next year the number will exceed this by a hundred.

To Miss Lena Spoor, supervisor of music in the schools and to Miss J. June Ebey, director of music in the High School, the success of the meet may be largely attributed. The work of managing the event is no small task and these instructors may be congratulated upon the splendid manner in which the contest was handled. The financial success of the meet was largely due to the wholehearted support given by the residents of Great Falls and by the high school students in buying tickets to the programs

With forty-two points more than the nearest competitor, Great Falls received the beautiful silver cup donated by the music dealers of Great Falls to the winner of the sweepstakes prize. Havre and Kalispell tied for second place with forty points each, and Dillon received third with a total of twenty points.

The Great Falls winners are as follows: Winners of first place, piano solo, Anna DeCew; girls' vocal duet, Clara Udine and Adeline Davis; piano duet, Margaret Albright and Anna DeCew; boys' glee club, girls' glee club, and boys' vocal quartet. Great Falls also tied for first place with Havre in the girls' quartet, and tied for second place with Butte in the orchestra. In the violin solo third place was won by Margaret Dotseth and the girls' vocal trio received a second place.

That the Annual Montana Interscholastic Music Meet is an established fact was shown conclusively by the success of the event this year. With the continued support of the people of Montana this activity is sure to attain the prominence which it has reached in other states.

The Senior Assembly

A symphony orchestra, under the direction of Tommy Evansky, and a musical comedy chorus led by Si Perkins, in the person of LaVerne Regan, were featured in '24's assembly program. Don Juan Maelial, the Spanish impresario, had complete control over the pianistic board. Prominent boys of the class played the violin, flute, clarinet, banjo, and other instruments in a very surprising manner. Marian Tippet and Henry Dotseth contributed their talent in vocal and violin solos. All agreed that the Seniors had set a very fine example for the other classes to follow in assembly program production.

The Junior Assembly

In the production of Shakespeare's "Pyramis and Thisby" Jack Stevenson interpreted Pyramis splendidly. Other characters were Douglas Hineline as Thisby, Carroll McCulloch as Quince, Harold Conover as Wall, Robert Dull as Lion, and Hugh Mitchell as Moon. Robert Price was delightful as Mrs. Si Perkins, and introduced three daughters, whom Si had forgotten to bring to the Senior Assembly. Harold Metzel, with Jane Johnston, Claire MacGregor, Douglas DeCew, and Joe Shuler demonstrated the necessity of an assistant principal. A chorus of girls closed the program with a snappy class song.

The Sophomore Assembly

The Sophomores went on the stage with their usual pep and vim for one of the best assemblies of the year. Many novel features were introduced, including the comical skit, "Great Falls High School Dictionary of Facts." Marvin Handler as the agent of a book company secured some astonishing information concerning the school from Elinor Miracle, Ruth Croteau and Harold McGee. A boys' vocal quartet, composed of Tom Lease, Robert Sisk, Jack Leland and Truman Acord, received a big hand. To complete the well balanced program, Clara Udine sang a solo, Nora Lowry gave a reading and the official Sophomore jazz orchestra played several of the latest "hits."

GF ROUNDUP HS

Roundup Day

On the day of days in the Great Falls High School the school is transformed. Gone are the teachers and students, and in their places are cowboys, cowgirls, gamblers, gunmen, cattle barons, cattle queens, circuit riders, miners, squaws, dancing girls—all that went to make up that romantic, incongruous, spectacular region, the Old West.

A heavily whiskered villain, in a wicked looking sombrero, rushes up to a stalwart cowpuncher, brands him, demands twenty-five cents, gives in return a tiny slip of white paper, and then rushes on to another victim.

But victim is hardly the word, for the branded one wears a singularly proud expression, proud because he wears the brand that is, to him, the very best—it is the symbol of his class in G. F. H. S. The Seniors again won the honor of having their ensignia engraved on the Roundup trophy cup, the gift of the Student Council.

The day has prospects of a great future. Something in the nature of a pageant will be attempted, a pageant which will re-enact episodes of the West that was, recount adventures of people who lived here in early days, and make those stirring times live again.

With all this wealth of material and the earnest co-operation of the school, Roundup Day will become more than a day of masquerade and jollity—it will be a bit of the frontier life transplanted from its own era into a modern school.

Edward B. Godfrey

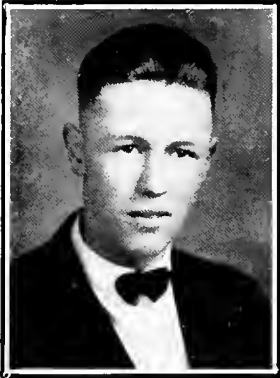

Edward B. Godfrey came to the Great Falls High School to take charge of athletics with an enviable record both as an athlete and coach. He is a graduate of Detroit University, where he made his letters in all major sports, had charge of athletics in Riverside, North Dakota, and was assistant coach at Northwestern High School of Spokane.

He has a wonderful personality and has made a friend of every candidate for a berth on his athletic teams.

Although lacking in material this year, Coach Godfrey has placed on the field excellent teams, hard fighting and clean, due to his wonderful influence and exceptional coaching and the teams' determination to fight to the last whistle for their coach and their school. Off the athletic field Coach has been a friend and wise counselor to every student under his care and a willing adviser to any in trouble.

To sum it all up in a few words, there has probably never been a man who has exercised a more constructive influence around our school than the man—Edward Godfrey—athlete, coach, and all around good fellow.

ROUNDUP

Horace Hart

Horace Hart was chosen this year by Coach Godfrey to fill the newly made office of Football and Basketball manager. The selection was due to Hart's great interest in sports and his willingness to do the work required of a person in such a position. To anyone knowing Hart, it is needless to say that he made a great success in this office.

Herb Brown, through his ability as a football player and a hard worker on the athletic field, was chosen by Coach Godfrey to take over the making of a second-team football. This, Herb did, and in a most successful way. He worked hard and diligently with his men and made a strong aggregation for the first team to buck.

Herbert Brown

Class Managers.

It was decided by the upper classes and the Sophomores that managers should be elected to handle their respective class contests. A vote was held and the following three were chosen: Herb Brown, Senior; Horace Hart, Junior; and Wallace Townsend, Sophomore. Through the combined efforts of these three men, the class basketball and class track tournaments were run off in successful order.

Capt. George Sohl

Foreword

At the beginning of the football season, prospects looked exceedingly bright for a winning team. In addition to there being a number of old men back, including Sohl, Lowry, Thisted, Anderson and Martin, there seemed to be an abundance of new material which could be easily developed into strong players. However, a few days after the season had opened several most likely candidates were declared ineligible. Things began to look doubtful, and when accidents and injuries took a hand in crippling the team, the job of placing a championship team on the field seemed hopeless. Coach's enthusiasm, however, did not slacken. He put his whole heart and soul into a team which, although not winners of the state championship, ranked among the best in the state and established for itself the reputation as a fast, hard fighting, and clean aggregation.

Season 1923

A few weeks after practice had begun, the school team played St. Mary's High School in a trial game on the High School athletic field. This game we won easily by a score of 26-0. Every minute of the game was hard fought, but was marred by blunders on both sides.

On October 6, Great Falls journeyed to Big Sandy in high hopes of defeating that strong team. The team left here Saturday morning with a large group of rooters and reached Big Sandy just in time to eat and to prepare for the game, which was called at 3 o'clock. The game was played on a poor field and was very slow during the first half. Great Falls played the better football, during the first part of the game and hammered its way to Big Sandy's one yard line, where the ball was lost on downs. The half ended 0-0. The second half started slow, but after about five minutes the Big Sandy players began to show signs of strength and battered their way from the middle of the field for a touchdown. They converted the trial for goal.

This touchdown put fight into the Blue and White, and Big Sandy failed to drive again. The remainder of the game was fought on almost even terms and the whistle blew with the score in favor of Big Sandy 7-0.

The second game of the season was played on the Montana Power field against the invaders, Stanford. Stanford players proved themselves fighters to the last, but the weight and speed

Carl Thisted

The following week Great Falls tackled an old enemy, Fort Benton, which came here with the idea of beating us but the game was more or less of a walk away for Great Falls. The whole second team substituted for the first and did remarkably well, making several points against 6 for Fort Benton. Fort Benton received its only touchdown when Uhl made a pretty sprint of 65 yards in the last quarter. Captain Sohl and Fred Anderson starred for the first string by making several beautiful runs both from passes and scrimmage. For the second team, Luke and Lux won undying fame with their passing and receiving ability, and were the talk of the school for many days.

Three days later the reputed Helena team came to Great Falls with victory set in their minds. This game was exceedingly fast and clean, but our team was too good for theirs. However, Helena, with an offense built around Kane, made many large gains through the Great Falls line. The game ended with a score of 34-0. Milne was the star player of this game, breaking up play after play of Helena's before they had time to form. Milne played stellar game all season. Lowry, a three year veteran, was unable to play this game on account of illness.

The following week the team went down to play Harlowtown, runners up for district honors last year, expecting a hard fight. This game was played on a rough field, and the game itself was marred by many injuries. Har-lowtown led the scoring when she made a touchdown just before the half ended. Great Falls tied the score in the third quarter when Lowry received a perfect pass from Anderson and sprinted 40 yards for a touchdown. We failed to convert the trial for point. In the last quarter Harlowtown forged ahead two points on a safety, caused by Sohl recovering a poor pass from center behind the Great Falls goal line. The game was waging hot and everyone seemed excited when Sohl dropped back for a place kick on the 40 yard line and near the edge of the field. A perfect pass from center, a pretty place kick and the ball headed directly for the goal posts. Suddenly a strong gust of wind caught the ball and carried it just a few inches on the outside of the post. A sigh of relief came from both Harlowtown players and rooters, the whistle blew and the game ended 8-6 in favor of our opponents.

Billings Game

A game was scheduled with Billings for November 10. Billings had won the championship of its district and this game was to have no bearing on the state title.

The game started off in whirlwind fashion, Great Falls carrying the ball 10 and 20 yards at a time. The locals had Billings baffled, and forced them to take time out "to talk it over." A few minutes after, play was resumed. Sweetman, Billings half-back, eluded the Great Falls players and dashed around right-end for twenty yards to a touchdown. In the second quarter Peters, Billings quarter-back, caught a punt and ran 60 yards for the second touchdown. The half ended 14-0. In the third quarter, Sohl while carrying the ball, was injured and forced to drop it. Pythian recovered for Billings and ran for 30 yards through the Blue and White defense for a touchdown. The touchdown was immediately protested because it was claimed that the referee had blown his whistle and the ball was dead when Sohl had dropped it. Coach at once took the team off the field where a lively argument followed with Billings, resulting almost in a gang fight. However, everything quieted down and Coach Godfrey sent the team back on the field to finish the game. It was decided to call off the remainder of the third quarter and begin with the fourth. Billings worked the ball to Great Falls' five yard line from which Peters intercepted a pass and ran 40 yards for another touchdown. A few minutes before the game ended Sohl placed a beautiful kick and the game ended 31-3.

Butte Game

The annual battle between Butte and Great Falls was played here on Thanksgiving Day before the largest crowd of the season. The game started off with a bang. Butte intercepted a Great Falls pass and ran 63 yards for a touchdown and also added a point by making the trial for goal. In the second quarter Anderson, star Great Falls half-back, carried the ball over Butte's goal line for the locals' first touchdown. The half ended 6-7. In the third quarter, Sohl perfected a field goal and placed the Blue and White in the lead. Great Falls retained its position until almost the end of the game. In fact it might be said we had the game cinched. Then the unexpected happened. Great Falls attempted to kick out of home territory, Butte blocked the kick and the ball rolled behind our goal line where it was recovered by a Butte player. The score ended 14-9.

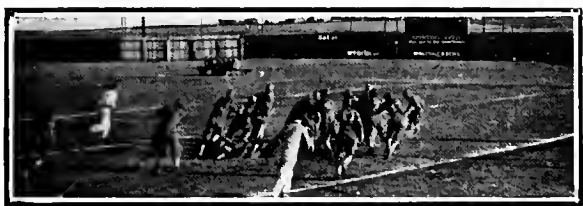

Howard Gemberling

Gerald Woodahl

"Fritz" Anderson has in his two years of football distinguished himself as one of the best open field runners in Montana. He is an extraordinary runner and tackler. When he hits a man that man is stopped. Fritz will make good in college.

ROUNDUP

Leo Willett

"Jake" Kruse, at quarterback, proved himself to be a clear thinker and a steady all-round back. Although this was his first year on the team, he played his position like a veteran.

At left tackle, "Tiny" Wolf showed himself a bulk of strength. Although weighing 210 pounds he was quick on his feet and was a sure tackler.

Captain George Sohl as a left half-back was one of the best all-round backs in the state. His good kicking, sure passing, and wonderful tackling, made him a man feared by his opponents. Captain made second all-state full back in 1922.

Joe Charteris at right end, showed himself a good man for this position. He was a good tackler and often demonstrated his ability to grab his man when coming around his end.

At full-back, John Gerber made a reputation for himself as a good back. His hard hitting, sure tackling and good punting marked him as a valuable man. Another good thing is that he will be back next year.

George Milne at guard played a fine aggressive game, both offensive and defensive. He was one of the surest tacklers in the state. When he went for a man, he got him. George, through his wonderful ability, made first all-state guard.

Del Lowry played his third successive year at left end and maintained his reputation as one of the most valuable ends ever put out by our high school. Lowry's playing was characterized by his wonderful receiving ability, hard tackling and cool headwork. Lowry made the third all-state team in 1922.

Gordon Conrad, although serving his first year on the squad, played his position of center with great ability. He was an accurate passer, and a man who was hard to excel. In other words he was an ideal center.

Haskell Shelton

Herbert Lux

Edward Marten

ROUNDUP

Carl Thisted, playing his third year on the team, held down the right tackle position with great capability. He proved himself a savage tackler and a good carrier of the ball. He made first all-state tackle one year and Captain of the third all-state another year.

Harding Townsend, playing right guard, did exceptionally well throughout the whole season. This was Harding's first year on the team, but his alertness and general knack made him a valuable man.

Everett Norlin was a fast, clever player at end, could tackle well and was a sure receiver of a pass. Besides being a good end, Norlin could be called upon in an emergency for almost any position.

Leo Willett, as a guard, stopped many a drive. "Windy" was a hard hitter, a good tackler and a man who could make a hole in the opposing line at the right time.

"Eddie" Martin, playing his second year on the team, made a good guard or center. At center, he was a sure passer. At guard he was a reliable man.

Haskell Shelton, another good guard or tackler, was a mountain of strength. Many an opponent has hit "Hash," but always stopped short.

"How" Gemberling, although the smallest man on the line, was a big asset. Playing at end, "How" proved his ability as a football player and was a dependable all round good man.

Gerald Woodahl was a good man at quarter. Through his clear, quick thinking the team made many large gains through the opposing teams' defense. "Gyp" will be back next year.

Gilbert Flannigan could be called on to play any position on the line. On account of his versatility he was often used and always showed to good advantage.

Herbert Lux, another good man, showed up well in any position on the team. "Bud" has two more years to play for the Blue and White.

The Second Team

Sugira, Teddy, Moe, Luke, Cave, Brandt, Milne, Semingson, R. Crumley, Townsend, E. Crumley, Shepard, Anderson

Great Falls High School takes this opportunity of thanking the members of the Second Squad for the loyal and unstinted support which they gave the First Team in furnishing material with which to practice. This invaluable aid has helped immeasurably in enabling the Blue and White to complete a successful season of football.

Basketball

Capt. Carl Thisted

Foreword

The question of producing a good basketball team was most complex, there being only two veterans from the previous year and one of those ineligible until January. However, around Lowry and Evans, a good team was built, with one of the strongest defenses in Montana. Lowry, who had been playing guard for his previous years, was moved to forward, while Evans retained his old position at center.

Basketball practice was begun long before football had ended and continued until the middle of March. During that time the team played 31 games, the longest season of basketball in the history of the Great Falls High School.

Season

December 15 saw the opening game of basketball season. On that evening G. F. decisively defeated Stanford, 19-4.

A week later Havre invaded our territory and was sent home with the small end of a 17-5 score. The first quarter looked serious, but we managed to hit our stride in the second and placed ourselves in a safe lead.

The following evening we played Whitefish, and after being lead in the first half, we managed to pull out of a slump and beat our opponents 19-9.

G F ROUNDUP H S

Del Lowry

North Central High School of Spokane, Washington, on December 3 was played and here we had our first taste of defeat. North Central had a team of wonderful defense, as well as an accurate shooting aggregation. We were taken into camp by a 14-4 score. Lowry made our only four points with two long shots thrown from past the middle of the floor.

The team, in order to square itself for its previous defeat, determined to beat the strong Stockett-Sand Coulee team, which had succeeded in winning all its games this far. This we did by a score of 11 to 5 in the most hotly contested game of the season up to this time.

Helena Invitational Tournament

The Great Falls players journeyed to Helena January 10, where they had been invited to take part in a tournament, consisting of teams from Anaconda, Deer Lodge, Mt. St. Charles and Helena High. Each team was to play each of the other contestants. Great Falls drew the St. Charles quint as its first opponent and defeated them to the tune of 22 to 6. The score, however, does not indicate the hard battle fought. The first half ended 2-2, and it was not until the third quarter that we stepped out and made 16 points. Our second opponent was Anaconda, a team which had already established a reputation as a likely contender of the state title. This team defeated the Blue and White 16-8, after the first half had stood 4-4. Next in line came Deer Lodge, which Great Falls easily defeated 12-4 in a slow and uninteresting game. Our last game of the tournament was played with Helena and lost to the painful score of 34-11. The shooting of the Helena men was exceptional, as was shown by the fact that they made good 17 shots out of 21 tries. The teams finished in the other named: Helena, Anaconda, Great Falls, Mt. St. Charles and Deer Lodge.

On January 19 Fort Benton was played at Great Falls, and was defeated by a 14-13 score, after an extra five-minute period. A minute before the final whistle, Benton Howard Gemberling was leading the Blue and White by two points. Gerber, with a beautiful shot, tied the score as the end of the game was called. An extra five minutes was played and Gemberling became the hero by converting a free throw and thus defeating the opponents.

Great Falls' next game was played at Butte. This game we lost 35-12, the long and accurate shooting of Butte accounting for the larger part of the score.

On the following evening, the Blue and White played the State College Freshmen. The team displayed a much better brand of basketball than on the previous night and although lost by 20-14 score it cannot be said that the "Bobkittens" had their own way.

Next, Great Falls went to Stockett. The regular playing time ended with the score tied. Three extra five-minute periods were played before Thisted, at guard, threw a long shot from past the middle of the floor and broke the tie.

The game ended 8-6.

We played Havre February 1 at Havre and lost 33-21.

The following night Anaconda was played for the second time this season and was beaten by a score of 14-12. This game upset the newspaper dope as it was expected that we should lose.

Gerald Woodahl

Western Invasion

The team started its western invasion, February 6, carrying six men. The first game was with Anaconda, where we were defeated 10-7, but it was anybody's game until the final whistle. The two teams were the most evenly matched that played this year in Anaconda.

We went on the second day to Missoula and were again defeated. This time 16-6. Missoula played her best game of the season against us.

The third day the game was at Thompson Falls. Here we were expected to be taken into camp, for it was figured that since Missoula had beaten us and Thompson Falls had defeated Missoula we would be easy victims. However, Great Falls won 27-19, a victory due largely to the exceptional shooting of Evans. That same night we left for Bozeman and played the "Bobkittens" there the following afternoon. The game was ours from beginning to end. Score 17-10.

Butte High played Great Falls here February 16. At the end of the half the Blue and White was leading 10-3. In the second half Butte came from behind and won 24-18. Theirhoff starred for Butte by making a number of beautiful shots from the middle of the floor.

District Tournament

On Washington's birthday the team went to the District Tournament and there drew Shelby as its first victim. Shelby lost 25-6. Next Great Falls played and beat Harlem 14-10, a team which had gone undefeated up to this time. This game placed the team into the finals against Big Sandy, who won from us 21-17 after an extra five-minute period.

Before going to the State Tournament, we played the fast St. Mary's team and decisively won with a 29-5 score. The whole team worked at top form.

State Tournament

The team left here March 6 for the State Tournament, where we lost our first game to Billings, 16-8, after a bitterly contested battle. The second game was played with Kalispell, which we beat 16-12. Our third game was with Whitehall, 16-12 in our favor. The last game at the State Tournament for the Blue and White was with Ronan for fifth or eighth place. This game we lost 21-19 after an extra five-minute period. After the tournament was over awards and medals were given by the Montana State College.

County Tournament

It was decided that a county tournament should be held and so the following teams were invited to Great Falls to take part: Simms, Ft. Shaw, Belt, St. Mary's and Cascade. Great Falls won the tournament by defeating Cascade 37-15; Simms 32-7, and St. Mary's 20-4.

Del Lowry, the oldest veteran on the team, was moved from guard to forward and showed that he was equally as good in that position as he had shown himself at guard his two previous years. Del has made the first all-district team for the last two years.

Mike Evans, playing his second year on the team, maintained his reputation as one of the best basket shooters in Montana. Mike was fast, elusive, and a hard man to stop. He made the second all-district team this year.

GF ROUNDUP HS

Howard Gemberling, the midget of the team, was a hard, clean fighter. Although small, he was a wonder at putting the ball through the iron hoop. "How" also made the second all-district team.

John Gerber, at guard, showed himself to be a hard man to pass. He played the ball consistently and was a terror at breaking up the opponent's plays.

Captain Carl Thisted, playing guard, was a capable man for his position. Although this was his first year on the team, he proved himself a man of great ability. Carl made the first all-district team this year.

Joe Charteris was a man capable of playing any position on the team. As a forward or center he was a good shot, a good team worker and a hard fighter. When he was playing guard, his opponents found him a difficult man to oppose.

Arvid Woodahl was another good man. "Arv" developed fast during the season and as the season closed, proved himself as good a man as played on the team.

Gerald Woodahl showed the same fight and ability as his brother, and could always be counted on to carry his position with skill.

ROUNDUP

Track 1923

Capt. James Charteris

Track began immediately after basketball. The first week or two was practically confined to indoor work on account of unfavorable weather conditions. Although indoor work was not as desirable as outside practice, the squad showed fine and much development. However as soon as the weather permitted, Coach Crouch had his men performing on the athletic field. Working out with the raw material were two veterans from the championship team of the previous year, Jim Charteris and Carlos Livers. Around these men the twenty-three team was to be built.

Interclass Meet

About a week before the Twentieth Annual Interscholastic Track Meet was staged, an interclass track meet was held on the High School athletic field. The first day proved most favorably, and a good number of spectators were lined around the field. Jim Charteris ran a half mile in state record time, while Carlos Livers did well in the hurdles, broad jump, high jump, and sprints. At the close of the first day, Juniors and Seniors were at about a tie.

The second day proved even more favorable than the first and a record crowd was present. The men who showed well in this contest were picked to represent Great Falls in the Track Meet at Missoula.

On May 8, the team, consisting of Captain James Charteris, Carlos Livers, Henry Brown, Joe Charteris, Del Lowry, Carl Thisted, Victor Malmberg, Marion Foster, Ernest Ijams, and George Sohl, left for Missoula. They arrived there that night, were taken to a hotel and remained there until the track contest opened.

Twentieth Annual Interscholastic Track Meet

Thursday afternoon, promptly at two o'clock, the second largest high school track meet in the United States was opened by the University of Montana. This afternoon was very unfit on account of the rain and cold weather. However, though it was not expected, a good number of state records fell this day. Great Falls broke one, through the efforts of Jim Charteris, who ran the half-mile and established a new mark of two minutes, four and two fifths seconds. Livers also placed the first day in the broad jump, and won his trials in the 120 yard high hurdles. The contest closed the first day with Great Falls taking fourth place.

The second day of the meet was more of an ideal track meet. Jim Charteris came second in the mile run, being beaten by a man who broke the state record. Jim came within a fraction of a second of breaking the record himself by crossing the tape after Gillett of Lewistown. Joe Charteris took third in the half mile and gained three more points for Great Falls. Livers broke the state record in the high jump, clearing the bar at five feet eight and three-fourths inches and tied for first place in this event. Livers also obtained two points by taking fourth in the low hurdles. The most successful track meet that had ever been sponsored in Montana closed that afternoon and the scores were announced. Great Falls placed first with twenty-four and one-half points and won, for the second consecutive year, the championship of Montana. Butte came a close second with twenty-four points.

After the meet, a number of parties, dinners, and dances were given by various fraternities and sororities for the contestants and rooters.

Saturday the Montana University held a dual meet with the University of Idaho, whom they easily defeated. Most of the team remained in Missoula over Saturday night to see this contest and left on Sunday morning for home. When the team reached home, a large crowd was present at the station to greet the boys and congratulate them after their successful trip.

The Prophecy

A dimly lighted room, hung with black velvet; an ebony jewel-studded table, on which reposes a crystal globe; and an atmosphere of breathless expectancy. This is the setting in which the veil of the future is to be torn asunder so that the class of '24, through my humble eyes, will learn what the coming years hold.

I lean forward eagerly and in accordance with the directions of the sorceress, place a hand on each side of the crystal globe. As I gaze, its clear transparency becomes opaque and I begin to discern figures and buildings!

The tiny scene represents a bustling American city, and, in the throng of busy individuals, I see many that are familiar to me. A huge car glides by, and in it reclines Carl Thisted, owner of a chain of up-to-the-minute clothing stores. While his car is halted in the traffic for a moment, he exchanges a greeting with Doctor Francis Albright, who is on his way to try his skill at alleviating the pain which Myrtle Johnson, a renowned interpretative dancer, is suffering from a sprained ankle.

As the traffic clears, I catch a glimpse of Zelma Hay and Carl Rosenbaum hurrying along, thinking only of their editorial duties, for they are co-editors of a widely read newspaper.

I see two more well-known faces in the throng. Beth Gaylord and Ward Miller, rival lawyers, pass by, vigorously arguing on intricate points in a recent trial.

The scene changes, and I see the fields and brooks of the country. The magnificent summer home of Helen Jackson, a famous portrait painter, is visible. The portraits which made her famous are those of LaVerne Regan, the most entertaining and popular comedienne on the stage, and Betty Prentice, a social leader and wife of a millionaire. As I look at the house, a group of people, evidently her guests, come out on the broad veranda. Among the smiling faces I see that of Margery Breitenstein, a clever and brilliant correspondent for several large newspapers. She is asking Mlle. Alice Duffey, owner of a most exclusive shop, what trend the fashions for the fall season will take. Tom Evans listens in an interested manner to Alice's response, for he is a theatrical magnate, who is famed for the gorgeous costuming of his "Revues," and is desirous of keeping up his reputation. Out on the tennis court Marguerite Gibbs and Don Macrae are playing a set or two. They are two of Tom's stars, Marguerite with her sweet voice and Don with his clever line.

The country scene fades slowly and is replaced by the white gleam of a large ocean liner and the blue sparkle of water. I see, reclining luxuriously on deck chairs, Margaret Miracle, widely known botanist, and her invaluable secretary, Peggy Jensen.

Then, two wealthy brokers, Billy Pierce and Sis Charteris, come strolling along the deck.

ROUNDUP

My eyes stray about and I recognize Gladys Hunnewell, Gratia Maynard and Elsie Ewing, the first a writer of charming short stories; the second, an organizer for the Women's League of Voters; and the last a prominent welfare worker. They are deep in the discussion of some very interesting subject, perhaps one of Robert Wells' remarkable inventions or Evelyn Tabasinske's widely known methods of instruction, when they are interrupted by a cheery greeting.

It comes from Gladys Smock, a charming young widow, who is strolling along the deck between Gordon Conrad and James Ward, the former an artist on the trombone and the latter equally jazzy with the drums. This gay trio is on its way to the salon of the ship where Henry Dotseth is to entertain the voyagers with his marvelous violin playing. They are joined by Clarence Rowe, who is on his way to Europe to study architecture. Their summery clothes and laughing faces then vanish slowly from view.

The next sight revealed is one that would astonish any observer. It is a huge fifty-passenger dirigible floating lazily in the summer air. It is the property of the oil magnate, Dalton Pierson, and, at the time I see it, a gay party is in full swing. The list of guests reads like a "who's who." There are Moe Devall, Delbert Johnston and Johnny Murrill, smartly tailored and each possessed of a goodly sum acquired in the brokerage business. Another lion is Jimmy Wynn, whose cheerful boyish grin is well known on the silver sheet. There is Marge Clark, a charming divorcee, and, talking to her, is Joe Fey, who, although he is now a canny business man and blessed with a five-figure bank account, is still able to hand out an entertaining line. Melvin Larson also is to be seen, talking advertising, on which subject he is a recognized authority. He is explaining his next advertising campaign for the automobile manufacturers, Troeltzsch & Egan. Mary Wright is his attentive audience, for her posters leap at one from every bill board and magazine and her work is much in demand.

Nora Wynn, just returned from a botanizing expedition up the Amazon, is eagerly recounting her discoveries to Lois Templeton, dean of a splendid womens' college.

Ruth Halsey, owner of a chain of tea rooms, is discussing with Helen Linquist, a pretty young matron, the best color scheme to use in redecorating her tea shops. Then I see another pair talking shop. It is Vonda Caufield, Paris buyer of gowns for an exclusive shop, and Peggy Burleigh, who is likewise an European buyer, except that her specialty is hats.

In contrast to this feminine group is the burly football coach, George Sohl.

I strive to see more, but the miniature scene loses its distinctness and vanishes slowly from view, leaving me exulting over the remarkably successful lives of the members of the glorious class of '24.

3—60 below zero, more or less.

4—Junior-Senior Mixer. Many new novelties. Even the faculty and Mr. Millikin did not escape the "prune" and "boob" pens.

Why call it "Cozy Corners?"
Amongst the cry and din,
George, with skill professional,
With a loud crash breaks
the violin!

Christmastide draws near again.
Little freshies are taking their pen —
They haven't time for lessons because they're writing letters to Santa Claus.

2-3—"Little Women". Pride of '24.

4—Class Night. An ideal night. Two excellent plays and a dance.

OF ROUNDUP HS

We, the class of 1924, are now moving on to more advanced realms of knowledge and means of subsistence. So, after four long and eventful years (in some cases even five or six) spent in accumulating shorn locks, sideburns, great savoir faire, and a few bits of wisdom, which have slowly percolated into our grey matter, we crave to abandon to those of our schoolmates who have not yet acquired enough of these rare and artistic attributes to join us in this migration, our most beloved, but now useless, qualities.

We, en masse, do bequeath to the school our ambition and our love for the Blue and the White; also sundry ink spots and balls of gum which adorn the desks,—the pupils', not the teachers'.

We leave to the Juniors the eternal privilege of carrying on the battle with the next year's Juniors, and we hope and pray that the contest will end as early and as amicably as did ours.

To the Sophomores, we bequeathe the hope that they will emerge from their present state of long legs and in-between-ness one-half as successfully as we did. (Yes, we admit we passed through it, too.)

We will the Freshmen the intense desire that they continue to maintain the great list of names on the Honor Roll, which would be sadly depleted without us, were it not for them.

The Senior Dramatics Class leaves the next year's group of deep-breathers and poise-seekers to Mrs. Huhn, hoping that she will have the tolerance and faith in their undeveloped—and sometimes never discovered—powers, which she had in us.

Dorothy Norton, bronze-haired Amazon, wills her sincerity and frankness to Elinor Miracle.

Carl Houtchens bequeathes his insurance business to Al Lauer.

Paul Pine leaves a carload of P. K.'s to Bud Lux.

Dorothy Wright presents her good fellowship to Jane Johnston.

To all who can qualify, Pearl Lux presents her joyous jollity.

Irene Seil leaves her elf-like person to Effie McCallum.

Howard Gemberling wills his fame as a basket-shooter to Sonny Kruse.

ROUNDUP

Harding Townsend kindly confers his propensity for running for the class presidency upon Jack Leland.

Anne Ferring bequeathes her histrionics to Marcia Brown. (For the benefit of the Frosh, histrionics means dramatic ability.)

To Ruth Asselstine, Laura Haugen wills that come hither look.

Bud Edmonson gives his love to all the girls, and he trusts that they will appreciate the great honor thrust upon them.

John Cave leaves to Carroll McCulloch his bring-home-the-bacon qualities.

James Christian transfers his deep and dramatic voice to Robert Rice.

To any Junior to whom it becomes, Ruth Cooling relinquishes her tresses, uncut and of darkest hue.

Fritz Anderson bequeathes his quota of love defeats to Horace Hart.

Clark MacLennan leaves his literary ability to the next year's winner of the Pulitzer literary award.

Al Usher, shaker of a wicked ankle, wills his skill to Henry Brown.

Dorothy McCann presents her goo-goo eyes to Helen Morris, who needs no instructions with them.

To any hard-pressed Junior in the scientific course, Bruce Wilkins transfers his algebra book.

Isabelle Graffin leaves her literary taste to Martha Walker.

To George Nilson, Jerry Haggerty transfers his job as a snail-catcher.

"So near, and yet so far." Robert McDermond wills his last chance for that coveted letter to Wallie Townsend.

Dorothy Rowe leaves to Eloise Barker her doubt-about-a-fraction-of-a-credit-for-graduation-until-last-minute traits.

Mildred Earley, the girl who always knows what she is supposed to know, bequeathes her all-round knowledge to Florence Cooper.

Catherine Wells, our "Cowgirl artist," transfers her place in the Technical club to a next-year's finale technician.

Helen McClure leaves her winsome ways to Jane L'Eveque.

Ernest Ostrem wills that schoolgirl complexion to Isabel Gilchrist.

Miss Ethel Curtis, our enthusiastic and cheerful sponsor, presents to Miss Gladys Williams the intriguing and fascinating pastime of grooming the Seniors in their activities.

The Roundup Staff fondly, lovingly, sadly, and thankfully bequeathes this issue, the Roundup of 1924, to Great Falls High School, for four years the home of all our joys and sorrows, our hopes and fears, with the wish that it will be read and handled kindly and in the manner that our expended effort should receive. We hope that following staffs will take the same interest in the book that we have taken and improve it from year to year as has been our aim.

GROUPS

We live in groups; we move in groups. Think of any time, any place, and your memory conjures up "your crowd." Photographing a group is the hardest test of our art, but we are prepared to demonstrate that in pose, lighting and portraiture we can surmount all difficulties and give you a life-like picture of you—and your crowd.

New Sport Shoes Score in Any Outdoor Activity

Whether spectator or participant in the sports of Spring, the well-dressed woman will be smartly, correctly shod.

Sports shoes shown here vary from shoes that will carry their wearer successfully through many a golf game to crisp styles to set off charming sports dresses and back again to sturdy shoes for hiking.

Choosing from such variety will be most pleasant.

The Value of a Good Credit Rating

(The Winning Essay)

By JAMES CHRISTIAN

The entire fabric of modern industry is built on a foundation of credit. Without it, business would come to a standstill. A good credit rating is the most valuable asset a business organization can have; it is equally indispensable to the private individual who wishes to make a success of life.

Your credit rating is simply the reputation you have for meeting financial obligations. This reputation is not a matter of guesswork, it is based on facts.

In the office of the city credit exchange your card is on file. If you have ever been extended credit by any business house, the record of it is on your card. If you pay your bills when due, you make for yourself a good credit rating and are considered worthy of continued trust and confidence. But if you fail to live up to your contracts, you will find it very hard to secure further credit, as every mercantile concern will be warned against you.

Live within your means, pay your bills promptly, meet your obligations as you promise to meet them, and you will not only earn a first class credit rating—you will lay a foundation on which your greatest ambitions may rest securely.
